LUNCHEON IN TENT FOR T. R.

Immense Tent to be Erected Near
Bloody Angle where Colonel
Roosevelt will be Entertained on Memorial Day.

A luncheon at which two thousand will be present and at which Theodore Roosevelt will be one of those asked to respond to toasts will be one of the features of the ex-President's visit here on May 30 according to Ira J. Mosey, chairman of the committee having in charge arrangements for Colonel Roosevelt's visit. The luncheon will be held in a huge tent similar to the one used at last year's Gettysburg Chautauqua and it will be located somewhere in the vicinity of the Bloody Angle.

Judge Swope will be asked to make the address of welcome at the meeting in the big tent and the reply will be given by Grand Chief W. S. Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers whose delegates will be the principal participants at the luncheon. The meal will be served, it is expected, by the ladies of St. James Lutheran church. It was planned to have the Gettysburg Chautauqua Chorus sing at the affair but they are not available and another chorus will be secured in their stead.

Two special trains will be furnished by the Reading to bring the 1500 delegates here. The trains will stop at the Mummaburg road and a lecturer will be assigned to each party. George L. Kieffer has been secured for the one and the other guide has not yet been engaged. The visitors will walk from Oak Ridge to the cut near Reynolds' Woods where they will be met by their trains and taken to Devil's Den and later they will arrive at the luncheon tent immediately after the luncheon and the speeches the crowd will adjourn to the National Cemetery for the exercises of the day.

A special invitation will be extended to all the higher officials of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company to attend the day's events at Gettysburg as the guests of the convention committee in view of the fact that the special train for the engineers is being provided for by the company.

Mr. Mosey, who is in charge of the arrangements for Roosevelt's visit is engineer on the Reading train which arrives here daily at 9.15 and leaves at 11.00. He is one of the best known railroaders on this part of the Reading and full confidence is placed in his ability to take care of the extensive plans.

PETER GINTER

Peter Ginter died at his home in Oxford township, near New Oxford, at 8 a. m. Sunday, aged 76 years, 4 months and 14 days. Mr. Ginter, who was never married, was a son of the late Anthony Ginter, and was born on the farm where he died. In his younger days he followed the milling business and operated different mills throughout this section, but for many years he followed the occupation of farming and took a special pride in feeding and caring for cattle, especially during the winter months, and as a general rule sent to the markets the prize cattle of this section in the spring season. He was a gentleman of a quiet and unassuming disposition and was a friend to all.

He is survived by three sisters and three brothers—Mrs. Joseph Hahn, of Baltimore; Aloysius A., residing close to the home place; Misses Rosa and Anna and William and Francis all residing on the home place. The funeral took place at 9 a. m. Tuesday, interment being made in the Catholic cemetery at New Oxford after a High Mass of Requiem in Immaculate Conception Church, Rev. Fr. Shields officiating.

She is also survived by one brother Jacob Schriver of Oxford township.

GETS A BLACK HAND LETTER

William A. Himes, well Known Shoe
Manufacturer of New Oxford,
Receives Communication Demanding Money.

New Oxford is considerably stirred up over the receipt of a "Black Hand" letter by William A. Himes who conducts one of the shoe manufacturing plants in that town.

The letter which was posted at the New Oxford post office on Tuesday and received by Mr. Himes on the evening of that day demanded that he place the sum of $500.00 under a large stone at the Myers garage and that if he failed to yield to this demand his house and family would be blown up. Should the recipient give the matter into the hands of detectives the "Black Hand" threatened to give him a fate similar to that promised for his family.

The letter was written with a lead pencil and very poorly executed. It was signed with a "black hand" and is thought by New Oxford residents either to be the work of boys excited by reading so-called dime novels or to have been perpetrated by some stranger.

Mr. Himes regards the matter lightly and, though he failed to produce the $500.00, no disastrous effects have resulted.

MR. McPHERSON ACTIVE IN ADJUSTING STRIKE DIFFICULTIES

"The state today is invaded by a vicious band of pirates" declares John B. McPherson, secretary of the New England Civic Federation referring to the Industrial Workers of the World in a special article for the Sunday "American" on the Lawrence strike situation. "Recognition of the I. W. W., in the event of a strike settlement" he further asserts "would be committing industrial suicide and would buy present peace at the price of future chaos in every industrial center of the Commonwealth." "It is impossible for manufacturers to make any concession to followers of the notorious Haywood," he adds, "who in Faneuil Hall recently declared that the time is at hand when the government of this Commonwealth must be overthrown."

As secretary of the New England Federation, Mr. McPherson took an active part in securing an adjustment of the recent longshoremen's strike in Boston, after being appealed to by prominent business interests for assistance. His work at that time was highly praised by the officers of the Longshoremen's Trade Council and the steamship agents, both of whom credited him with being the means of bringing the long drawn out strike to a mutually satisfactory conclusion. He is also credited with having secured an adjustment of the Chauffeurs' and Carriage Drivers' strike in Boston at a time that it threatened to tie up the entire transportation business of the city, and is generally looked upon in labor circles as being friendly to trades unionism.

GETTYSBURG TRIP ENDS IN WEDDING

Christian Gebhart, Aged 60, Marries
Philadelphia Woman, Twenty Years his Junior. Met at Time of Visit Last Year.

As the result of a trip to Gettysburg, a short stop at the hotel at Bonneauville, and a courtship helped along by correspondence and more or less frequent visits Christian Gebhart, of Bonneauville, and Miss Catharine Quinn, of Philadelphia, were married Tuesday, February 20.

A romance lies back of the wedding, as Mr. Gebhart became acquainted with his bride in a most peculiar way. Sometime last Summer Miss Quinn, who was visiting relatives and friends in the vicinity of Hanover, accompanied a party of tourists to the Gettysburg battlefield. She was very much impressed with the surrounding country and on leaving Gettysburg jokingly made the remark that she "would like to live down here."

On reaching Bonneauville, a stop was made at the village hotel to water the horses, and here is where the romance began. Mr. Gebhart happened to be nearby and he gallantly offered his assistance—unchecking the horses and leading them to the trough. While the party was resting, Mr. Gebhart entertained them with a description of the wonders and beauties of the Conewago Valley. He doubtless was unaware that his descriptions were making a deep impression on one of the party.

The second chapter in the romance, it is said, came through the medium of a post card, which contained the Philadelphia address of Miss Quinn. A prompt acknowledgment of the receipt of the card paved the way for other replies, until a regular correspondence developed, and, 'tis said, frequent "business trips" were made to the city by Mr. Gebhart—the final journey being made last week.

Mr. Gebhart has just passed his 60th milestone, while the bride is said to be 20 years his junior. The newly wedded couple arrived in Bonneauville Saturday night and will make their future home in that place.

WILL ENTERTAIN FRUIT GROWERS

Biglerville will have Fruit Growers' Association of Adams County as their guests on Saturday. The Program.

On Saturday afternoon and evening Biglerville will have as its guests the members of the Fruit Growers' Association of Adams County who will meet in Thomas Brothers' Hall for their regular March meeting. The citizens of Biglerville are putting forth special efforts to make the meeting a success and have issued an attractive program advertising the town and its various business firms and interests.

The session of the association on Saturday afternoon will be marked by four addresses of much importance to those interested in the fruit growing industry. E. D. Hiliary, division freight agent of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, will talk on "Moving the Adams County Apple Crop;" Joseph Hunter, chief deputy of the State Highway Commission, will address the meeting on "The Construction and Care of Country Roads;" D. N. Minick, of Chambersburg, will have for his subject "Apple Package and Grade Legislation;" and C. A. Griest, of Guernsey, will talk on "Spring Spraying Problems."

In the evening at eight o'clock Prof. C. C. Ellis, of Juniata College, Huntingdon, will give a lecture on "The Biggest Word in the Dictionary." It will be one of the lectures in the Biglerville Library Lecture Course but all members of the Fruit Growers' Association will be admitted without charge. The Gettysburg College Orchestra will play during the evening.

In telling of the progress of Biglerville the booklet which gives the program for the meeting says: Biglerville lies in the heart of the apple land of Adams county, along the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, and a good roads State highway, six miles from Gettysburg, four from Bendersville and two from Arendtville. "Biglerville has a record second to no other town in the county for growth, hustle and prosperity. It was created a borough in 1903 with 277 acres and 119 perches and a population of 290. In nine years, or 1912, its assets are practically doubled. The population is about 500. Its acreage has grown by the addition of 95 acres and 15 perches. When created a borough its assessed taxable property amounted to $71,821, now it is $137,430. Money at interest then returned was $20,005, now $50,815. A town showing nearly a 100 per cent gain in prosperity in nine years is necessarily a good place in which to invest, a good place in which to locate, and a good place in which to live."

WOMAN IS KILLED AND MAN DYING

Double Tragedy Startles Cape May Court House.

CHILDREN SEE STRUGGLE

Jealous Boarder Shoots Landlady to Death and Fatally Wounds Himself.

Cape May Court House, N. J., Feb. 29.—Jealous of the attention that Mrs. Catherine Bowker is alleged to have shown toward a man who had formerly boarded in the Bowker home, Joseph Pettit, who lived in the same house, shot the woman and then attempted to kill himself.

Pettit seized Mrs. Bowker and, as he clasped one hand around her throat, fired a bullet from his revolver into her head. Then he sent several bullets into his own brain. Mrs. Bowker staggered into the hallway and fell upon the floor.

Pettit dropped in the bedroom, and when neighbors reached the house he was unconscious. He was removed to a hospital. The physicians said that he would probably die. The tragedy was witnessed by a boy and a girl, who also live in the house.

Isaiah Bowker, husband of the murdered woman, is employed in the factory of the Cape May Glass company as a batch maker.

Pettit went to the Bowker house to live ten years ago and had boarded there since. According to the county authorities, he became attentive to Mrs. Bowker, but the woman said that he misconstrued her friendship.

A few weeks ago another man, known as "Bert," was taken into the house by Bowker as a boarder. Pettit became jealous of him the first time he saw him speak with Mrs. Bowker. He is alleged to have told her that she had no right to become interested in any one but himself.

Bert seemed to like Mrs. Bowker, and quarrels resulted between him and Pettit. Mrs. Bowker told them not to be silly, that she was not interested in either, and that if her husband learned of the quarrels he would order both from the house.

Bert disappeared a few days ago. No one can be found who knows where he went, but he told a friend that he was going away for the sake of peace in the Bowker home. Mrs. Bowker became angry when she heard this and remonstrated with Pettit and told him that he had no right to offend Bert to such an extent.

Pettit is said to have retorted that if Mrs. Bowker would not have him he would see to it that she did not get Bert. She laughed, and that, it is believed, aroused the jealousy of Pettit.

Mrs. Bowker went into her bedroom and closed the door. Pettit followed her and apparently forced entrance to the room, where another quarrel is said to have occurred.

A boy named Parsons, who lives in the house as an adopted son, heard Mrs. Bowker scream murder. He ran up the stairs, and through the doorway saw Pettit seize Mrs. Bowker. He told the authorities that he saw him draw a revolver from his pocket and point it at the woman.

A sister of Parsons became frightened at the commotion and clung to the boy. They both looked into the room and saw, they say, Pettit shoot Mrs. Bowker screaming. Pettit fired again and again, and two bullets missed the head of the woman and embedded themselves in a window sash.

Mrs. Bowker managed to break from his grasp. She staggered into the hall, and then Pettit fired two bullets into her head. Mrs. Bowker fell against the wall, cutting her head. The next instant she fell to the floor dead. The boy and his sister ran from the house shouting for help.

William Saunders was going by the house, and he summoned Constable Hurrell. They went into the house and found the body of Mrs. Bowker. Pettit was leaning against the bed and was breathing.

Dr. Dix and Dr. Douglass were summoned. They said that Pettit was mortally wounded and that he should be removed to a hospital.

DOG HERO OF A RESCUE

Swims With Cake of Ice With Baby Until Saved.

New York, Feb. 29.—A dog was the hero of the rescue of a year-old baby from drowning in the Hudson river. Willie Blake, child of Captain John Blake, of the canal boat Mary Ann, tied up on the Jersey City side of the stream, was playing in a big clothes basket on the deck, when baby and all worked over the side to land right side up on a cake of ice.

A terrier which had been playing with the baby gave the alarm by barking furiously, and after attracting the attention of the baby's mother, jumped overboard and swam faithfully on guard beside the ice cake as it floated down the river.

It was still on duty ten minutes later when a steamboat crew, whose attention had been attracted by the dog's barking, put out a skiff and rescued the chilled but unharmed baby and the nearly exhausted dog.

REED INSISTS ON DUPONT INQUIRY

Says Delaware Senator Should Welcome Probe if Innocent.

Washington, Feb. 29.—Senator Reed, of Missouri, addressed the senate in support of his resolution for an investigation of Senator Henry A. DuPont of Delaware.

Senator Reed declared that he hoped the proposed investigation would exculpate Senator DuPont, but he insisted that the inquiry should be ordered. The disclosures before the subcommittee that investigated the charges against Cornelius P. Swain for United States marshal of Delaware, he said, demand further investigation, which ought to be courted by an innocent man.

Senator Reed said that the charge, that resulted in the withdrawal of Swain's nomination were that he bore the "common and general reputation of a persistent vote buyer and election corruptionist in violation of the law."

"If Swain bore this reputation," he continued, "then it must be presumed that this fact was known at the time of his appointment. He was, according to testimony, appointed at the request of Senator DuPont. If it be true that Senator DuPont recommended for appointment a man whom he knew to be engaged in corrupt practices relating to elections, then he gravely offended against this body in being instrumental in bringing such an appointee before the senate for approval."

Senator Reed said that while there was a conflict of testimony as to the general reputation of Swain, there was other testimony which, if true, "shows that Senator DuPont had a personal knowledge of Swain's corrupt practices, and to have been privy to them."

NEW REVOLT IN CHINA

The Republican Troops at Wu Chang Mutiny.

Hankow, China, Feb. 29.—A portion of the Republican troops stationed at Wu Chang revolted during the night. Considerable fighting occurred, but no details have reached here regarding casualties. The city gates have been closed.

The outbreak is attributed to the dissatisfaction among the soldiers at not receiving their pay.

The foreign gunboats stationed here have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for eventualities. No disturbances have occurred in this city.

Favor Chinese Recognition Resolution.

Washington, Feb. 29.—The house committee on foreign affairs favorably reported the Sulzer resolution, which, in effect, would recognize the new republic of China. It congratulates the Chinese people "on their assumption of the powers, duties and responsibilities of self-government."

TEN GOVERNORS SUPPORT TAFT

Mead, of Vermont, Joins the Nine Others.

THEY CLAIM TWO MORE

Tener and Nine Others, Some From Progressive States, Out For the President's Renomination.

Washington, Feb. 29. — Increasing elation of the managers of the campaign to renominate President Taft as to the effect of the Roosevelt candidacy was expressed when it was announced that another Republican governor had aligned himself with the nine who had come out for the renomination of President Taft.

The executives going on record in favor of the president's renomination were Eberhart, Minnesota; Carroll, of Iowa; Hay, of Washington; Goldsborough, of Maryland; Tener, of Pennsylvania; Hooper, of Tennessee; Spry, of Utah; Pennewill, of Delaware, and Pothier, of Rhode Island.

Governor Mead, of Vermont, was the one to add his formal endorsement. He says he has received reports from various parts of Vermont indicating strongly that a "large majority of the Republican party of Vermont" favors the nomination of the president.

In addition to the signed statements made public, the Taft managers claim the support of Governors Deneen, of Illinois, and Oddie, of Nevada, but have no signed statements from the two men.

The declaration of some of these men come as a striking indication that in many states, which are considered radical, there is a strong Taft sentiment, and that Roosevelt cannot count upon even those states that are commonly referred to as Progressive.

The announcement concerning the governors from the Taft bureau is taken as an answer to the Chicago conference of seven governors on whose solicitation Colonel Roosevelt based his formal entry into the presidential contest.

The governors who have come out for President Taft all take the position that his record entitles him to renomination. Following are the more striking extracts from the governors' dispatches:

Goldsborough, of Maryland — "It is my opinion that President Taft has given the country one of the best administrations in its history. I firmly believe that when the record of the Republican party under his wise leadership is fully made known to the people they will rally to his standard, renominate him and re-elect him."

Tener, of Pennsylvania — "In view of the able manner in which President Taft has conducted his office, the constructive and substantial achievements of his administration, I unhesitatingly predict his re-election."

Pennewill, of Delaware — "I am strongly in favor of President Taft's renomination. His splendid record should insure his re-election."

In making public these telegrams the Taft bureau says that Republican gubernatorial candidates in the last elections in states normally Republican, but now headed by Democratic executives, have almost unanimously declared for Taft.

Mansfield, Mass., Feb. 29.—An additional bequest of $75,000 to a fortune of $200,000 was secured by Charles F. Corbin, of New Britain, Conn., when he was married here to Mrs. Mona Drew Babbitt.

Corbin, who is the son of the late Philip Corbin, a hardware manufacturer, was left $200,000 by his father, with the stipulation that he would receive the additional bequest if he married within a year. The marriage was within the given time.

Friends of the couple say the provisions of the will had nothing whatever to do with Mr. Corbin's courtship. He had known Mrs. Babbitt for ten years.

ICE GORGE BREAKS IN SUSQUEHANNA

Port Deposit Fears a General Flood.

RIVER IS RISING RAPIDLY

The Mass Sweeps Over McCall's Ferry Dam, Which Withstood the Terrific Strain.

Port Deposit, Md., Feb. 29. — The great ice fields above the McCall's Ferry dam in the Susquehanna river broke, sending a flood of water over this section of the state.

Within a few minutes the river from the dam to the Chesapeake bay began rising, and within an hour the waters had reached a point more than eight feet above the low water mark. A general flood in Port Deposit is imminent and most of the residents have already moved to the high lands.

For some days the water has been backing up behind the great dam, and for that reason guards were maintained along the river bank continually. This immense volume of water which had collected swept over the dam with such fury as to carry everything before it. However, the dam itself withstood the terrific strain and so far as is known no damage was suffered.

The rising temperature caused the ice along the river as far north as Harrisburg to break away and begin its trip toward the sea. At Shenk's Ferry a heavy gorge formed and caused the water to back up into Safe Harbor.

Within a short time the roads around Safe Harbor were under several inches of water. A channel was cut through on the York county side, and this relieved the strain and prevented a worse flood in that district. The water flowing through this channel, however, continued on down the river, causing considerable apprehension all along its course.

At Port Deposit the residents have been prepared for a flood for several days. Many of them had removed all their belongings to places of safety. Others as soon as warned began to move. All freight on the tracks of the Columbia & Port Deposit division of the Pennsylvania railroad was quickly hauled to Perryville. Everything portable in the station was sent to the latter town, where it will remain until all danger is past.

The water in the river at Port Deposit is rapidly rising and it is feared that within a short time it will sweep over its banks and out into the streets of the town.

Twelve-Mile Gorge Below Lock Haven.

Lock Haven, Pa., Feb. 29. — The heavy ice in the Susquehanna river passed out on a six-foot flood, doing absolutely no damage. There is a twelve-mile gorge below the city, extending from Linden to Charlton. Above Lock Haven from the Queen's run bridge to Ferney another gorge has formed. From Ferney to Clearfield the river is clear of ice. All danger so far as Lock Haven is concerned is believed to have passed.

River Eleven Feet Above Normal.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 29.—The Susquehanna went up to eleven feet above low water mark in a few hours, the sudden rise being due to the breaking of a gorge up stream.

SHOCK KILLS WOMAN

Was Thrown Into Convulsions Upon Hearing Man's Death Scream.

Bristol, Pa., Feb. 29.—Mrs. Annie Connoley, the young wife of Peter Connoley, an insurance agent, died here in convulsions as a direct result of a shock she received on the night of Feb. 10, in hearing the death scream of William Reed, who was crushed to death under a trolley car directly in front of her home at the corner of Mill and Cedar streets.

Mrs. Connoley was thrown into convulsions on the night of the Reed tragedy, but under medical treatment partly recovered, so that she was able to go out.

Tuesday night she was again seized with convulsions, probably at a recurrence of the memory of the accident, and despite the efforts of her physician, passed away.

Man at 68 Has Only 16 Birthdays.

Allentown, Pa., Feb. 29.—Although he was born sixty-eight years ago, Samuel B. Burger, former deputy in national revenue collector and the oldest Republican worker in Lehigh county, today celebrated his sixteenth birthday anniversary. The reason "Uncle Sam," as everybody in Allentown calls him, is so youthful in birthdays is that he was born on Feb. 29, having first seen the light of day in 1844.

Lancaster, Pa., Feb. 29.—A resolution was adopted at a special meeting of the Democratic county committee endorsing Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, for the Democratic nomination for the presidency.
